

Meet Beverly: Our November Honored Hero

Beverly's Story

Hi! My name is Beverly Chaney and I'm an AML leukemia survivor! I live in Scottsbluff and am currently in remission.

November 11th, 2009 is a date forever imprinted in my mind. The doctor called and told me the diagnosis and said it was urgent to get to Denver for treatment A.S.A.P! Not knowing what to expect, my mom, best friend Kari, and myself set off on the four-year thus far leukemia journey.

March 12, 2012, is another milestone in my journey. That's the date I received my stem cell transplant. "Absolutely!" is the one word answer my brother gave me when I asked if he would be tested as a potential donor. Thankfully, he was a perfect match. I'm now my brother...Ha!

One foot in front of the other is the only way to get through this journey. Be positive!!
